A few things to consider when building your timeline

Building your timeline will depend on what you prioritize on your day and what you have planned.

- Are you planning on seeing each other before your ceremony?
- Are you getting ready somewhere else than your wedding venue?
- How much time do you need to travel from one place to the other?
- Is your ceremony religious?
- Are you doing a special send-off?

Your wedding venue should be able to provide you your ceremony time early on and this is when you can start planning everything else around it.

I recommend starting to plan your timeline 2 months before your wedding day with your photographer.

Every wedding is different and planned to fit your vision. These timelines were made to give you an idea of what a timeline can look like and what you need to take in consideration before sending the final timeline to all your vendors.

You can customize it and add time if needed.

You only experience a wedding day once. Planning extra time will help you take your time and relax on your wedding day.

Happy Planning!
